TABConf has sponsorship opportunities for cool, forward-thinking brands (that's you)

Expect new insights and substantial content from today's movers and shakers, cutting through the mainstream hype. Share ideas across economics, culture, and technology; learn from each other; and build the future together.

This is an inclusive event, and with sponsorship support we're making TABConf 2022 affordable - enabling access to learn about bitcoin without huge price barriers. These sponsorship also support the non-profit organization Brink. Brink exists to strengthen the Bitcoin protocol and network through fundamental research and development, and to support the Bitcoin developer community through funding, education, and mentoring.
